

CCO WELCOMES ELIZABETH FEICHTER

January 2006 - Corporate Community Outsourcing and Dominique Love are pleased to welcome Elizabeth Feichter to our team.

Elizabeth joins CCO as Vice President and will have specific responsibility expanding our nonprofit services division and with helping corporate clients build stronger nonprofit partnerships. Elizabeth brings more than a decade of fundraising and nonprofit management to CCO, including her last position as Director of Development for Hands On Atlanta where she grew the organization's annual fundraising activities to more than $7 million and successfully led a $7.3 million capital campaign. Among her wealth of experience, Elizabeth will bring the following expertise to our clients:

- Developing and implementing major donor programs, including annual and capital campaigns;
- Expanding and strengthening fundraising efforts;
- Building and managing high-level corporate/community partnerships;
- Planning and leading successful fundraising and special events;
- Identifying community service opportunities and engaging, training and managing volunteers;
- Examining, creating and implementing annual strategic plans, and
- Hiring, managing and developing nonprofit staff and volunteers.

"We are thrilled to add Elizabeth to the CCO team. Her proven track-record of success with fundraising and nonprofit management will prove invaluable for our clients. Add to the mix, her positive, can-do attitude, creativity and extensive marketing and communications skills, and Elizabeth will lead clients to award-winning programming and financial and operational success," says Dominique Love, president.
